FERRANTE WITHDRAWS FROM SUNSET TRUSTEE RACE; MRS. LEVINSON TO BE SOLE CANDIDATE NEXT FRIDAY

Speeding Trial Enters Third Week

Baugh Sets Argument for June 1; Police Sirens, Lights Ordered Off

By FRANCIS L. LLOYD

Carmel's most famous speeding case continued on trial again this week and will go to argument next Thursday, June 1 at 10 a. m. Rival attorneys were agreeable to beginning argument at 4 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, but Justice of the Peace Ray Baugh, sitting in court at Monterey, declared, "I'm afraid if we begin argument now we will be here all night."

Argyll Campbell, defending with Ralph O. Marron, Mrs. Kathryn Bolin, who is charged with speeding at 43 miles an hour on San Antonio street on May 2, facetiously told the judge, "I want to go on and on and on—like Tennyson's 'Brook'."

The long-dragged out trial in which Marron and Campbell wrangled doggedly with Assistant District Attorney Kal Y. Sapero and Carmel City Attorney William L. Hudson, began a week ago last Tuesday morning and continued through Wednesday and Friday to be resumed again on Monday of this week. Chief witness was Officer Les Overhulse, who made the arrest and whose evidence the defense attempted unsuccessfully to have stricken out.

Events this week were highlighted by Mrs. Bolin's own story, brought out on the stand on Tuesday afternoon, and in which she detailed being pursued by an unidentified car which only after chasing her from Eighth street along San Antonio to Thirteenth gave indication of being a police car at that point by turning on the red light and first sounding the horn and then after a brief interval the siren.

Counsel for the defence tried to

Carmel Police Get Orders from Cato

Orders of State Highway Patrol Chief E. Raymond Cato, delivered verbally by Inspector Henry Livingston, were received by Carmel's police department last week-end to the effect that red lights and sirens should be removed from privately-owned police cars used in law enforcement in this city.

No immediate action was taken by Carmel police on the order which followed publicity given to sections of the California Vehicle Code and Attorney Ralph O. Marron's suggestion to Cato that the law as written be enforced.

City Attorney William Luis Hudson this week announced his stand regarding Cato's order as follows:

Carmel Bank Will Move to New Home Saturday, June 17

Saturday, June 17, is the date tentatively set for the moving of the Bank of Carmel to its new building on the corner of Dolores and Ocean avenue, according to announcement by the bank yesterday.

The Bank of Carmel, established July 23, 1923, has occupied since that time the present building.

Final details of interior decoration and furnishing and of landscaping on Ocean avenue and Dolores street sides of the building are being worked out.

August 17 Date For Completion of Sewer System

August 17, a little more than two and a half months away, will see the completion of Carmel's new sewage disposal plant and enlarged sewer system, according to Bernard Rowntree, sanitary district assessor, who announced that date as the deadline for work now under way.

Part of the new sewer system is already in and finished, through the north Hatton Fields area, and under way in the Mission Tract. Bids were opened Wednesday night for the sewerage of the La Loma terrace area north of Carmel and east of Carmel Woods.

Two pumping plants, at Monte Verde and Tenth and at Kuster's Point, are being completed and submerged in the terrain. Carmel Point

Sunset School Issue of Pine Cone Comes Out Next Friday

The annual Sunset School number of The Carmel Pine Cone, an issue much looked forward to by the school children, parents and Pine Cone subscribers each year, is announced for next Friday.

Sunset pupils are preparing art work, editorials, interviews and stories of town activities and frequently their fresh and discerning eyes catch new angles and more correctly judge the trends than their seniors.

The idea of a Sunset number of The Pine Cone originated many years ago with Perry Newberry, late editor and publisher of The Pine Cone, who did much for and with Carmel's youngsters.

Attorney Explains His Position, Asks Support of Former Trustee

Mrs. Helen Levinson, a former member of the Sunset school district board of trustees, will be the only candidate for election next Friday, June 2, it was determined yesterday when Peter Ferrante, attorney, withdrew his candidacy in favor of Mrs. Levinson and in so doing issued the following statement explaining his action:

"My candidacy, apparently having aroused certain issues which tend to inject politics into the school trustee campaign, placing me in a misunderstood position, I wish to announce my withdrawal as a candidate for trustee and I urge all my friends to cast their ballots for Mrs. Helen Levinson."

Ferrante filed his candidacy on the closing day, May 18, in a spirit of public-mindedness and without any idea of getting into what for a few days this week loomed as another school controversy, he frankly told friends yesterday. "I had wanted for some time to work on a school board and had considered filing in Monterey," he said. "Then I decided last Thursday to file for the Carmel board."

From that point on it became apparent to Ferrante that he had placed himself in a position opposing a candidate who had strong support from many who had fought long and hard for what they considered the best interests of Sunset school. Realizing that his candidacy would arouse another controversy and not wishing to get involved in such community politics, he yesterday reconsidered his position and immediately withdrew on the advice of friends.

With the election of Mrs. Levinson now assured, it appears a distinct possibility, although not yet a certainty, that Ferrante will be recommended for the board to take one of the two appointive positions to be filled by County Superintendent of Schools James G. Force on July 1, when it becomes the unified five-man board.

Supporters of Mrs. Levinson had been surprised by Ferrante's candidacy, until it became apparent that the attorney had not filed because of the urging of so-called "pressure groups"—as originally feared.

Ferrante is an able young attorney, educated in Monterey schools, and qualifies as one of the younger men in public affairs here who grew up on the peninsula. Aside from the political issues supposedly involved at this time, he is welcomed as new and much-needed material for carrying on the affairs of the community. A graduate of Stanford University, he is a member of the law firm of Hudson, Martin and Ferrante.

Mrs. Levinson's return to the school board will be a most welcome one, because she is well known to the members of the board who feel she will work well with them in their task of building the proposed high school and because she was well tried and proven during her term on the board a few years ago.

The Sunset board met yesterday morning with Architect Charles Kump, Jr., to discuss informally details for the high school. Invited to attend were both Mrs. Levinson and Ferrante.

The election place next Friday will be Sunset Library and will be open from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m.

CAR OVERTURNED, NONE INJURED ON VALLEY ROAD

A car driven by Dexter Whitcomb of Carmel got out of control on the Carmel Valley road about seven miles up the valley and overturned last Sunday afternoon. None of the passengers, however, was injured, and passing motorists righted the car, on its top in midroad. Damage was minor.

JOYCE UZZELL TAKES PART IN SAN JOSE SWIM EVENT

Joyce Uzzell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Viert Uzzell of Carmel, played a part in San Jose State College's swim extravaganza, "Three Tales", to be presented Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Uzzell is a freshman at San Jose State, where she is majoring in physical education.

IN MEMORIAM

We do not grieve that you have won your rest,
For all through life we know you gave your best.
We do not grieve, for surely do we feel
That as the days go by, all aching hearts will heal,
And all the many years of sunshine and of smile
With your most loved and genial presence for the while
That you did shed upon the world you blest—
We do not grieve that God has called you West.

And now that in the Paradise on high
You still will smile and send your kindly rays
To keep the memories of the deeds gone by
Fresh in our minds and hearts all future days.
So rest, dear friend, and may those left behind
Find peace and happiness midst all the coming years;
And through God's grace, may all the links that bind
Still see you smiling gently through their tears.

—ELIZA V. COCKBURN.

GIRL SCOUTS PICNIC

Last Saturday Carmel Girl Scout Troop No. 2 had its annual picnic time at Indian Village. Inspired by the sight of the brightly painted tepees, they played Indians, then followed this up with baseball games, a hike to Seal Rocks, and a treasure hunt led by "Skipper" Mary Ackroyd who was their guest for the day.

Other guests were Miss Edith Tweedy, peninsula director, and Miss Audrey Walton, camp chairman. Her announcement that camping at Big Sur had been extended a week to accommodate this troop was received enthusiastically. Troop 2 will camp from July 9-22, according to the new plans.

Leaders in charge of the picnic were Mrs. Ernest Morehouse, Mrs.

Talbert Josselyn and Mrs. George Moller. Girls present were: Patricia Flynn, Carol Walker, Alice Morehouse, Barbara Josselyn, Betty Ryland, Martha Moller, Joan Dekker, Barbara Mylar, Barbara Timmins, Ann Hodgson, Doris Lewis, Nancy Watson, Peri Koehler, Alyce Holm, Betty Smith, Betty Ann Sparks, Nancy Knapp-Smith, Ruth Townsend.

Also last Saturday 14 girls of Carmel Troop No. 1, in charge of Mrs. Martin McAuley, enjoyed a picnic breakfast at the picnicking grounds in the 17-mile drive.

SEA SCOUT REGATTA

Santa Cruz will be the venue for Sea Scouts of Monterey, San Benito and Santa Cruz counties this weekend when the annual salt water regatta is held there on Saturday and Sunday. Santa Cruz Ship No. 69 will be host for the affair.

The purpose of the regatta is to give the various Sea Scout ships of the area an opportunity to demonstrate their general efficiency in Sea Scouting, to stimulate interest in Sea Scouting, and to make for good fellowship and common experience. Only registered Sea Scouts and their adult scouters take part in the occasion.

Headquarters of the camp during the week-end will be the San Lorenzo riverbank picnic grounds, where Sea Scouts will tent out and adult leaders may obtain furnished cabins, all bringing, however, their own bedding. Each ship will provide its own food and do its own cooking, but restaurants are also nearby.

Events on the two-day program include knot-tying contests, splicing, boat repairs, rope climbing, heaving the lead, a pulling race, breeches buoy drill, tug-of-war, signalling, casting the life line or life buoy, a skiff tug-of-war, swim relay, swimming, capsized boat and navigation problems. A water carnival Saturday night and Protestant and Catholic church services Sunday morning are scheduled.

Skipper Jon Konigshofer is driving over to Santa Cruz with some of the Carmel Sea Scouts who are not prepared this year to take any official part in the regatta.

BARBECUE AT BIG SUR

The Monterey Bay area council's scouters and their wives will attend a barbecue at Camp Esselen at Big Sur on Sunday at 1 o'clock. At this time the visitors will inspect the camp at Pfeiffer's Redwood state park which is now ready for the summer camping season.

All those attending are urged to bring their own equipment and utensils for eating, according to announcement from Scout headquarters at Salinas. Wives of scouters are especially invited by the council to show the appreciation for their cooperation during the year.

Scoutmasters and scouters will hold a conference following the barbecue.

GIRL'S OFFICERS NAMED

The final Girl Scout meeting for the peninsula before the summer vacation was held on Tuesday afternoon at the Monterey Girl Scout house, when the following officers were elected: Mrs. George de Lorimier, Pacific Grove, commissioner; Mrs. Webster Street, Carmel, deputy commissioner; Mrs. L. L. Dewar, Monterey, secretary; Mrs. H. A. Prince, Monterey, treasurer.

Corsage bouquets were presented to the following who are retiring from the peninsula Girl Scout council: Mesdames R. R. Wallace, H. J. Zaches, C. E. Underwood and Misses Ruth Huntington and Audrey Walton.

Diplomas were received by Mesdames J. H. Bastedo, Paul Nybro, Murray Mathews, H. J. Morse, retiring from their respective district councils, and a pewter tray was presented by the council to Miss Edith M. Tweedy, director, whose resignation last month was accepted with regret. The tray was engraved in Monterey cypress design in recognition of Miss Tweedy's work.

Tea followed. Among those present were Mesdames Thomas Verga, Henry Tiedemann, L. L. Dewar, Leslie Brown, A. C. Miller, Horace Dormody, Peter Ferrante, Chester Gillette, C. E. Underwood, William Estabrook, Edwin Hawes, T. W. Van Ess, E. Cooke Smith, J. H. Bastedo, H. J. Chavoya, George de Lorimier, Nellie Zaches, Paul Nybro, H. A. Prince, Ralph Young, Robert Sexton and Misses Audrey Walton, Edith Tweedy and Ruth Huntington.

TROOP ACTIVITIES

Troop 1, Carmel, with Mrs. McAuley leader, have finished their home nursing and foot traveler work. On Wednesday, May 17, a mother's tea was given and the badges awarded to the girls in home nursing and foot traveler, also one girl invested as a Girl Scout. A breakfast hike is planned so the girls can cook breakfast out of doors and thus qualify for second class. Mrs. Dale Easter is planning to start this troop in their Arts and Crafts work. This entire troop is looking forward to attending camp this summer.

Troop 2, with Mrs. Morehouse leader and Mrs. Talbert Josselyn assistant, have been working on second class. Their project was community service and safety. The chief of police, Robert Norton of Carmel, talked with this group about observing traffic rules, both as pedestrians and while riding bicycles. This group is such an energetic one that they easily sold their quota of cookies without knowing the quantity consigned to them. This troop marched in uniform at the P-T. A. Carnival. This group all hope to attend camp this summer.

GIRLS GET BADGES

Girls in Troop 1, Carmel, Mrs. McAuley leader, who have been awarded home nursing badges, are as follows: Clara Street, Susan Watson, Sonja Koehler, Norrine Kelsey, Clara Joy Hitchcock, Kathleen McAuley, Phyllis Jones, Barbara Bolin, Lillis Harris, Elizabeth Stanley, Mary Brown, Helen Elizabeth Roeth. Those awarded out-door cook badges from last summer's camp experience are: Phyllis Jones, Sonja Koehler, and Kathleen McAuley. Those awarded second class badges are Susan Watson, and Barbara Bolin. Barbara Bolin also was awarded the foot-traveler's badge.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS AGAIN WEDNESDAY, JUNE 7

Next regular meeting of the Carmel-by-the-Sea city council will be Wednesday, June 2, according to City Clerk Saidee Van Brower.

Tomorrow Is Poppy Day, So Buy Your Poppy

Tomorrow is Poppy Day in Carmel. Here is why you should buy a poppy:

Every poppy sold accomplishes a three-fold service:

First: It has furnished enjoyable occupation for the disabled Veterans and given them an opportunity to earn money for some of their needs.

Second: It will bring in funds to carry on the most fundamental part of the Auxiliary's work.

Third: It will keep alive in the hearts of all Americans the debt owed to these men.

Wearing a poppy on Poppy Day means aid for the living. Poppy Day is sponsored in Carmel by the Carmel unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

BLEWETT'S CREAMERY

On The Avenue

A stately lady in a large car with a Minnesota license along with her smaller husband. They drew up to a group chatting on the postoffice corner and asked:

"Can you tell me where Almee Semple McPherson's cottage is?" The group was composed of one of Carmel's very earliest settlers, a young man who spent his whole life in Carmel until a few years ago, and several other well known residents, and they looked vague.

Finally, after a pointed silence, "Down toward the beach" was the only reply the Minnesotans could gather. They drove off still on the search for that cottage of doubtful interest. The Carmelites burst forth. It seems almost all of them were well aware of that cottage's location but their pride was hurt. "To think that someone had come all the way from Minnesota to see the place when Carmel had so much else to offer." It is strange that the country at large has gathered an impression of our town that is really so false! Certain newspapers are still fostering this impression and are avid for any spicy bit of news that might occur here! Then they blazon forth about Carmel "where almost anything can happen." They have even contacted prominent people in the community life with the hope that they might be a mine of such information! Those approached have all turned them down with disgust!

So it went, and Carmel and Ocean Avenue life continued on its routine, friends greeted friends, shoppers darted hither and yon, children crossed the avenue on their way home from school. It was a very cheery, busy little town, minding its own business and not asking for notoriety.

Slightly Off

Last week the residents of one of our lower streets were surprised when they walked forth on their daily business to see neat rows of signs from all over the town arranged along where the sidewalks supposedly are. It seems it was the idea of humor that several Monterey youths entertained. Indignant were those filched of their signs, but they were all returned and are now once more swinging on gates, or stuck in lawns or all the other places where good people of the town keep their signs.

Curtain Goes Up On "Uncle Tom's Cabin" June 2

"Uncle Tom's Cabin", beloved throughout America for well over half a century, opens in California's First theater, Monterey, next Friday evening, June 2, to run through Saturday and Sunday nights. "Uncle Tom" runs on Monday night, June 5, as well, but that night has been taken by the Rotary Club as their annual "Ladies Night".

Special dedications, songs and surprises are being planned for "Rotary Night", and the Troupers of the Gold Coast are planning to draw laughter and jollity from the soberest of Rotarians. New olio acts and new talent added to old Troupers will keep the curtain going up and down with exciting speed.

The Gold Coast Symphony, "The Home Town Shell", Charlie McCarthy, and Monologue of a Trouper are but a few of the variety acts in which the Troupers of the Gold Coast will show their versatility following the show.

Gordon Knoles is directing the production, which is under the Denry-Watrous Management. Susan Duvall will be at the piano and Allen Knight will be master of ceremonies.

Isabel Meadows, Valley Pioneer, Dies in East

"Aunt Belle", Miss Isabel Meadows, 94, born and raised in the Carmel Valley, died in Washington, D. C., last Sunday, her large family and many friends learned with shock this week.

Daughter of the late James Meadows, founder of the prominent valley family, Miss Meadows lived in vigorous good health until her last illness and maintained close contact with her friends here.

Miss Meadows left the valley many years ago to live in Santa Ana, and later moved to Washington where she was for many years an official in the Department of the Interior.

She is survived by her brother, Thomas Meadows of Monterey, and a number of nieces and nephews. It was understood the body would be brought west for burial.

us or several dozen children. He slept. He was big and tawny with a gorgeous mane and sleepy. He looked as though he had just jumped over from the African veldt and wished he were back. It turned out, though, that he had never seen Africa; he was born in captivity of parents who also were born in captivity. Maybe why he was so mightily asleep was that he was dreaming about the tales of great hunts about which his grandpappy had told his pappy and his pappy had told him on cold winter nights, when, just a young cub, he had snuggled against his mammy in the family cage. Maybe they had inspired him to go out into the world and make good. Now after just two years in the great world he is touring about the country in his own limousine with two devoted attendants. He lives in luxury. But he does get bored with the admiration of his world and right after school when all the children gather to pay him court he takes a nap. But ... one little boy maintains that he did see him stand up and roar and it was "swell". We were anxious to interview him about his impressions of Carmel and when we went back a little later he opened one eye and admitted as how "it was wonderful, way beyond his expectations and as soon as he can he is coming back to live here." Then we will make national headlines ... but we won't mind in this case. It's an honor to have the king of beasts in our midst ... as long as he doesn't want us for lunch.

Retirement Plan Has Birth to 21 Limits: Here 'tis

Possibilities of a "retire at birth plan", mentioned by Barry Grant, who passed through Carmel last week, are intriguing, to say the least. Just how serious the backers of the plan are, however, remains to be seen. Grant explained while here that the program was in no sense being organized in opposition to the "30 Thursday" plan.

Here are the essential details of the "retire at birth plan":

"The present-day need is for the young and not for the old people. Under this system a baby at birth until maturity at the age of 21 years will receive from the state a monthly allowance of $125. This will make every child financially independent and will naturally do away with the child labor problem. Parents will be able to have larger families. The child will be able to help his parents in time of financial stress, ending relief. Children's institutions will cease. This pension is possible without additional taxes because of the increased volume of business, elimination of charity, etc."

The idea is a rather novel and sweeping one, so we'll have to give it more thought. Grant promises a big rally here, but we've heard nothing since he left town. He promised to be back.

William P. Silva Will Open Gallery to Show Small Painting Exhibit

Small paintings by one of Carmel's pioneer artists will be seen at the studio of William P. Silva from 2 to 5 each day on San Antonio street, north of Ocean avenue.

Silva is long recognized as one of the leaders of Carmel's older group of artists who first found this area an ideal place for work.

This opportunity to see Silva's work will be given for some time and many are expected to take advantage of this privilege.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

This uproar in Europe, it is bad medicine and is nothing to just wink at, but we been putting in too much time there. We got plenty of weeds in our own garden.

This Mr. Hitler, he says he had to be the Supreme Court and everything, all by himself, a few years back—and clean house. Said he had to do it to save the country. He saved it for himself, but not for the average German. But that is not our problem. If Hans and Fritz like it, let 'em be a sucker.

I sure am not fond of Herr Adolph, but he got powerful close to the truth for once when he said the U. S. it might solve some of its own unemployment and get out of the mire which it is bogged down in, before crossing the Atlantic.

China, it is doing pretty well, since everybody has let them alone. So will Europe.

The feller trying to settle the argument next door, he is the guy who winds up in the hospital.

Yours, with the low down,
JO SERRA.

bring out that Mrs. Bolin had been badly frightened on another occasion when a machine had speeded past the car in which Dr. and Mrs. Rolf Bolin were driving near Palo Alto and overturned.

The police department was again taken to task for having red lights and siren on privately-owned cars used for police patrol work, and, at the request of Marron, California Highway Patrol Chief E. Raymond Cato sent orders verbally by Inspector Henry Livingston to have Carmel police remove the red lights and sirens. No immediate action, however, was taken, as other cities, including Berkeley, employ the same system as Carmel—apparently without interference from the state agency.

Campbell's Position

Campbell, who was Carmel city attorney several years ago when police first equipped their private cars with red lights and sirens, just as sheriffs and peace officers generally are permitted to do regardless of the law, told The Pine Cone specifically that the law was changed in 1937, thereby bringing into effect a totally different set-up under which he now charges the Carmel police system with breaking the laws it is supposed to uphold.

In a statement to The Pine Cone, Campbell arraigned the actions of the Carmel police force and declared that he had Carmel's own best interest at heart in taking Mrs. Bolin's case without fee and in spending many valuable hours of his time and of his law partner's time in fighting the case.

Marron as Witness

Among events that highlighted the trial were the placing of Attorney Marron on the stand to testify that during a year's residence on San Antonio street he has seen exactly one car turn off a side street onto San Antonio, on a day last August; filing as an exhibit the original citation issued by Overhulse and having on its reverse side notes regarding the arrest and Mrs. Bolin's statements at the time; and parade of Judge A. C. Jochmus of Pacific Grove and Police Judge Monty Hellam of Monterey to the stand to testify regarding Mrs. Bolin's good character in their jurisdictions.

Previous Citation

Also a highlight was testimony that Mrs. Bolin had previously been arrested for speeding at 50 miles per hour; contradictory evidence by Mrs. Bolin and the arresting officer regarding her remarks at the time of arrest.

Overhulse said Mrs. Bolin told him she was a "friend of the judge" and would "get his job." "You take your job too seriously," Overhulse quoted her as saying. "She said a lot of things I don't remember," Overhulse added.

Mrs. Bolin testified: "I said I knew the judge and I would take it up with him — this frightening of women drivers."

At this point the defence announced it would rest its case.

Vehicle Code Quoted

Most quoted law was Section 750 of the California Vehicle Code, enacted in 1935, which says that every highway patrolman and peace officer must be uniformed and their vehicles marked in accordance with State highway patrol rules when their "exclusive or main purpose" is enforcement of provisions of Division IX of the code, which covers speeding and other traffic behavior. The defence attempted to show that Carmel patrolmen had as their "exclusive" or "main" duty the enforcement of such traffic regulations and by disqualifying the officer, strike out his testimony.

Judge Baugh, in overruling the motion of the defence, announced: "This court does not find that the 'main' purpose on that night" of Officer Overhulse was to enforce provisions of CVC Division IX.

Mrs. Bolin, in her account of being frightened by a car which appeared suddenly from a side street, gave chase and pursued her closely as she accelerated in fright, was halted by objection as she started to give the basis for her fear—the story of the speeding car which overturned on the Palo Alto highway—and Attorney Campbell began enlarging on this account, when Judge Baugh interrupted to say: "I'd just as soon hear the witness tell the story as you."

Attorney Hudson then outlined the theory that no person should drive faster than a reasonable and prudent rate of speed regardless of what that person's past experiences might have been.

Attorney Marron took Saperio to task "for obstructing" full display of evidence. "What is the district attorney's attitude in this case?" he asked.

Among witnesses this week were Officer Earle Wernuth, Police Chief Robert Norton, Adrian Harbolt and Joseph D. Thorn, Jr.

"My opinion is that there is no clear cut violation of the code in the situation prevailing in Carmel. The attorney general has never handed down an opinion on the section covering red lights and sirens on privately-owned police cars and there has never been a prosecution based on this law. Also the city of Berkeley has 75 police cars operated under the same conditions as are Carmel police cars. This applies also to many other communities throughout the state."

It was indicated that no action would be taken by Carmel police upon the order conveyed by Livingston.

has yet to favor sewers.

The F. C. Stolte company, Pacific Grove, was the low bidder on the La Loma sewer job with a $4512.50 figure submitted Wednesday night. Other bids were: W. J. Tobin, Oakland, $6,387.50; Harvey E. Conner, Redwood City, $5402.50; E. J. Treacy, San Francisco, $6920.50; Underground Construction Company, Oakland, $283. The job will begin in about a month's time.

JAPANESE OVETURNS

K. Murikama, Pacific Grove Japanese rooming house proprietor, started to drive home from the Zellerbach residence at Scenic and Ocean at 7 o'clock last evening, when his car went out of control and rolled to the foot of Ocean avenue, to leap the rock barrier at the dunes, strike a telephone pole in mid-air and landed upside down 15 feet away in the dunes. He was uninjured.

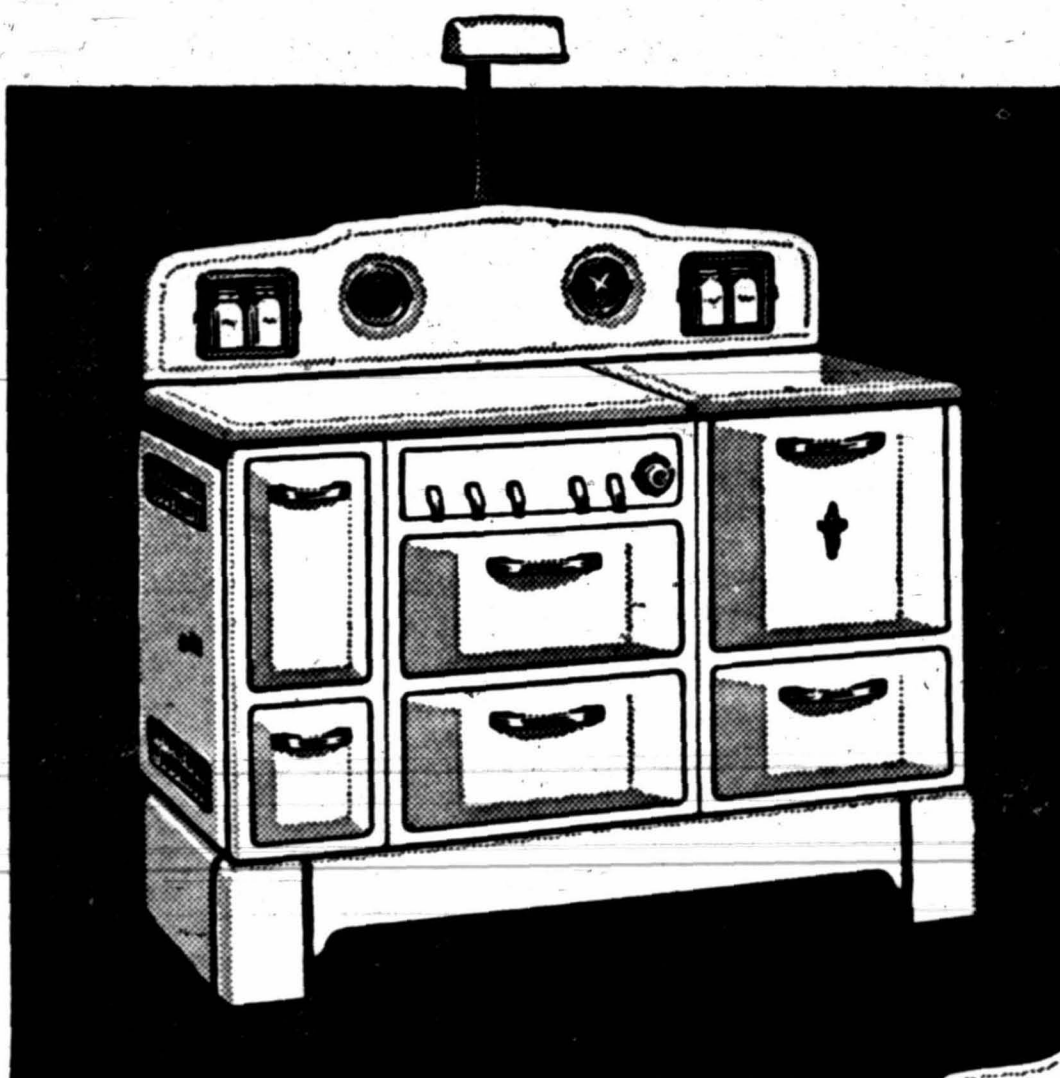

Allen Knight's orchestra will play for the Carmel Players' dance to be given in the Mission Ranch Club on Saturday, June 10, according to announcement this week by Richard Masten, president of the Players. Entertainment is also planned.

Markham Johnson Tells About Nautical School

By FRANCIS L. LLOYD

Markham L. Johnston, who has just completed his first year of studies at the California Nautical School in preparation for life at sea, and has had one voyage in the school's training ship, California State, passed an examination this week.

I set the examination and Markham came through it with flying colors, because of the concise manner in which he answered the questions I asked. They were in writing and, aside from the handwriting, which was pretty good and much better than I can manage, averaged 100 per cent. The handwriting, which I say was much better than mine, was 95 per cent—which rates my own hand pretty high.

Markham is one of four of Carmel's young men who attended the Nautical School during the past year, and he is the youngest. He is the son of Mrs. Gladys R. Johnston, of the Del Monte Properties Company. With him at the school have been Kent Clark, Jr., who graduates on June 19, and John Clague and Bill Chapman, who are second year men.

Incidentally, at the Nautical School the men who have just entered are "third year" men, those who have had one year are "second year" men, and, I presume, those about to graduate are "first year" men. That's reasonable, even if it is converse or Chinese-style.

I wanted to know if Carmel had any Nautical School graduates now following the sea. Dave Goddard, I was told, is one of the school's earliest graduates and now holds a commission out of New York. He is the brother of Mrs. Ernest Bixler and son of Mrs. Ella S. Goddard.

"Several boys from Monterey, Pacific Grove and Salinas," Johnston told me, "have graduated from the school and are now active merchantmen."

Academic work at the school, besides the annual cruise which this year took the shipful of young men down the coast to South American waters and returned a few weeks ago, is divided into three years and includes in the first three months study of several books which form a groundwork in physics, metallurgy, elementary engineering, mechanical drawing, seamanship, navigation and a whole lot of other matters connected with the sea and operating a ship.

When the men have completed three years of this, and have put in their required time at sea, which is a pretty handy thing to get on a school ship these days, they graduate with a third mate's ticket. This requires passing examinations in which a "time element" of experience is of importance for each succeeding grade. In other words, the government doesn't license bookworms and people "who have read about the sea" to run American ships. For one very good reason, when a hurricane blows up or a tall shaft snaps, there's no time to go below and get out a good book on the subject. It's got to be quick work and it's got to be right. The days of pushing a button are fortunately still a very far way off.

"My experiences," according to Johnston, "so far have been varied or general. I have worked in nearly every part of the ship and have a fair knowledge of routine, both in the engine room and on the bridge. Also I have a working knowledge of ship maintenance."

"Most of the fellows, about 80 per cent or more, have relatives who are now in some active branch of sea service."

"Principally because there is no other school like it in the West, I chose the California Nautical School, and it gives a fellow a wonderful foundation on which to build his career of sea life," Johnston told me.

I also asked him how a candidate for the school qualifies and was told:

Errol Flynn is starred in "Dodge City", technicolor film story of the frontier in Kansas and the old Chisholm trail to be seen at the Carmel Theater Sunday to Tuesday.

Regarding an effort to "kill" the California Nautical School some time ago in the legislature, a situation was discovered similar to that in which a legislator substituted the word "burro" for "crab" in a bill because someone suggested it. The bill was to protect female crabs and to set a size limit. In the case of the Nautical School, it was taken up as an economy measure without the legislator knowing anything about the school, according to reports from an investigating committee.

Instead of cutting down on the work of the California Nautical School, it is likely that a new ship will be provided to carry on this important service of providing trained and qualified men as ship's officers.

Hot Stories Stop Press

State Highway Patrolman Leo "Wrong Way" Rambey and A. M. Tannahill, market proprietor, both of Salinas, returned home last night after being lost in the Santa Lucia mountains near Tassajara Hot Springs Hotel since Wednesday evening, according to Mrs. James B. Holohan, of Tassajara.

They made their way back to civilization via Gruber's ranch in the Arroyo Seco after an all-day search by airplane, by mounted forest rangers and CCC camp boys had failed to find any trace of them except a campfire in the hills east of Tassajara.

Carmel Fire Department will probably have to buy a newer, louder fire siren. It is expected that this siren will be half again as big and pitched much lower than the coded siren just installed in order to be audible throughout the city. The new coded siren is expected to cost an additional $200.

Alkalinity In Soil Real Danger, Survey Shows

A survey of Carmel soils has just been completed this week by E. Frederick Smith, the "Plantsmith", showing that there is a serious danger to gardens from alkalinity, instead of, as so frequently imagined, acidity.

In a postcard circularization of well known gardeners, Smith obtained from 100 inquiries that 52 per cent had no idea whether their garden soil was acid or alkaline, and that 28 per cent said their soils were in some parts too acid and in others too alkaline. One reply stated the soil to be neither and one said: "You know better than I do!"

Prior to this, Smith had various samples of soil tested by commercial chemists and these tests showed a sample of virgin soil from beneath an oak tree to be slightly on the alkaline side, and that garden soil fertilized only with manure to be even more alkaline, while adjacent soil treated to liquid fertilizer to be slightly on the acid side.

Smith further declares that city water contributes to the alkalinity of the soil, and points out the fallacy of believing the danger to plant growth lies entirely on the acid side. The danger in local soils, he says, is rather from increasing alkalinity.

Lime, bone meal, ashes, city water, nitrate of soda and animal manure add to the alkalinity in that order, while rain water is approximately neutral, and gypsum, peat moss, superphosphate, "liquilizer" (liquid fertilizer) and sulphur, are acid agents in that order. Use of some such acidifier as liquid fertilizer will counteract heavy use of city water during the dry season, when the tendency is toward alkalinity, according to Smith.

A recent issue of "Flower Grower" makes the following comment on soils: A number of factors influence the soil reaction. Sanitation and the necessity of purifying city water supplies have an influence on garden soils. Constant use of highly alkaline water tends to increase the alkalinity of the soil so high it may harm plant growth. Each section of the country may have its own special problems. Even gardens in the same city may present different problems owing to natural differences or to variations of treatment. If the soil is found to be alkaline and you wish to get the best results possible with roses, it will be necessary to treat the soil with an acidifying agent.

Christian Science

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, May 28 in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "Mine hand shall be upon the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies: . . . and ye shall know that I am the Lord God" (Ezek. 13:9). Other Bible citations will include: "Then was Jesus led up of the spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil . . . Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. Then the devil leaveth him, and, behold, angels came and ministered unto him" (Matt. 4: 1, 10, 11).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We cannot bring out the practical proof of Christianity, which Jesus required, while error seems as potent and real to us as Truth, and while we make a personal devil and an anthropomorphic God our starting-points, especially if we consider Satan as a being coequal in power with Deity, if not superior to Him" (p. 351).

CHORISTERS OF ALL SAINTS HAPPILY SURPRISE RECTOR

The choristers of All Saints' Church helped by their mothers, Mr. R. E. Manhire and Miss Alice Keith, staged a surprise party on Monday evening in All Saints Parish House for Mr. Hulswé.

The hall was beautifully decorated and a delicious dinner was served.

The boys presented Mr. Hulswé with a merchandise order, to help fill his needs for his anticipated trip to the Amsterdam conference.

The presentation was made by Bill Goss.

Community singing, story telling and games made the evening a happy one.

Those who took part and helped so generously were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rohr, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ewig, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Goss, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. R. Fratles, Mrs. A. Uzzell, Mrs. L. Levinson, Mrs. E. Heisinger, Mrs. W. D. Yerkes, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wishart, Mrs. E. Leffingwell, Mrs. J. H. Williams, Mrs. M. Arneson, Mr. and Mrs. O. Bardarson, Mrs. E. Evans, Miss A. Keith, Mr. Rue Manhire and Mrs. C. J. Hulswé.

MacDowell Music to be Played by Marrs Tomorrow

An unusual program of MacDowell music to be played by David Marrs, pianist, with readings from Tennyson's "Idylls of the King", by Herbert Heron, Carmel poet-mayor, will be heard at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club tomorrow evening at 8:30.

The second MacDowell sonata, "Erioca", is based on the Arthurian legend and the readings by Herbert Heron are of especial interest in this connection. The recital is sponsored by the Musical Art Club.

Because of the educational value of this presentation, student tickets are available at reduced price, while paid-up members have tickets for this event included in their membership fee and are accordingly receiving their tickets by mail.

Both Marrs and Heron are well known to peninsula residents. While Marrs is one of the area's most promising musicians, and regarded as a master of interpretative technique, Heron has long been Carmel's foremost protagonist of Shakespeare and was a founder of the Forest Theater.

Tomorrow evening's program includes "The Coming of Arthur", "Clifton Forest", "Guinevere" and "The Passing of Arthur" from the second Sonata; as well as Brahms, and Debussy's "Reflection on the Water", "Submerged Cathedral", "Evening in Granada" and "What the West Wind Saw."

Tickets are on sale at Lial's, Staniford's, Abinante's, and Dyke's.

BEHIND THE SCENES—The radio listener hears the slam of a door, and a monotone voice inquires, "Mr. Benny? . . . I want to wish you a very Happy New Year!" You may have wondered about this non-entity who acts so successfully as stooge to the world famous comedian. If you have, here is the story.

It is Harry Baldwin who steps before the microphone on the heels of a loud knock and delivers a telegram or some extraneous bon mot. It is he also who takes down every word said at a script conference, handles Benny's business affairs, pays bills, supervises handling of fan mail, makes Benny's appointments and sees that he keeps them.

Harry Baldwin has been secretary to Benny since 1932. He is a graduate of Columbia University, a wizard at shorthand, and a very efficient business manager. All this in addition to his typed acting abilities. Before coming to work for "Buck", he served such important men as Alexander Woolcott, Christopher Morley, Ben Hecht, Walter Wanger, and others. Though practically unknown to the hand-clappers, precocious, prematurely bald, bachelor Harry Baldwin will live long in the memories of that inner circle known as BEHIND THE SCENES IN RADIO.

Incidents in the life of Eleuthere Irene duPont, first of the duPont family in the United States and founder of the huge company which bears his name, are to be dramatized on "Calvacade of America", Monday,

WHEN ONE EQUALS FIVE

The recent ruling by Raymond Cato, head of the State Highway Patrol at the instigation of Ralph O. Marron of Carmel, and law associate of Argyll Campbell, that Carmel remove the red lights and sirens off its privately owned police cars, and all of them are privately owned, will prove a very costly change in our police department. There is no doubt that it is unlawful under the present statutes for privately-owned vehicles to have the lights and sirens, so Cato can make his ultimatum stick. Mr. Marron admitted to us by phone Monday that he had complained to Cato personally that Carmel police were violating the law.

At present Carmel is operating five automobiles belonging to the officers themselves, who pay all expenses out of the $25 a month allotted to them exclusive of gas and oil. These cost the city $1200 a year.

If Carmel had to purchase its own police cars and one car would not be enough, two cars a lame force, while three would be barely sufficient, the cost would be away above the present sum.

Roughly figuring, here is what a single car would mean to the village:

One new standard Ford police patrol car, $921, plus taxes and additional equipment, such as oversize tires, spotlights, etc., about another $50. Insurance on this car, including the additional premium for police use is about $90. The car could not be expected to run continuously so some storage facilities must be included. Our guess is that $10 a month would not be too much for this last item. This is another $120 per year. Lubrication, $1.00 every thousand miles,—the cars do better than 2000 miles a month, so add another $24 per year.—For maintenance and repairs, we ask any automobile owner what he has to pay out to operate his car for 24,000 miles. This figure varies so much we hesitate to estimate what it might be, but know that it will be considerable when totaled.

Then we come to the item of depreciation. It has been the experience of other departments all over the state that the average life of a police car is from 18 months to two years, and a very small turn-in, due to the hard usage.

Totaling these figures, including the maintenance figure not given, we find that the price of purchasing and operating ONE city-owned police car is higher than we have been paying for five cars.

If Mr. Cato starts enforcing the law concerning the use of red lights and sirens all over the state, as he must if he does so here, what would a city like Berkeley do with over 50 vehicles operated under the same plan as in force in Carmel?

We are reliably informed that less than five months ago officials of the highway patrol assured the Carmel police that the practice of using privately-owned cars for police patrol duty was general over the state and that they were allowing it to continue and so approved their continuance of the system.

BITS ABOUT THE TRIAL

If the main and exclusive purpose of the three Carmel policemen who patrol the streets in eight-hour shifts is to regulate traffic and watch for traffic violations, then Officer Overhulse's testimony at the speeding trial of Mrs. Kathryn Bolin should be held incompetent as he was not driving a car painted a special color as designated by the highway patrol, namely white. This is the contention of the defense attorneys, Argyll Campbell and Ralph O. Marron. And this is their whole defense.

Three times the defense has made motion to have Overhulse's testimony thrown out and an equal number of times Judge Ray Baugh has refused to do so. The prosecution has contended all along that Overhulse's main duty is to enforce all laws.

It has been said that Judge Baugh considers Officer Overhulse nothing more than a flatfoot in an automobile and not a traffic officer.

Argyll Campbell stated that he did not want to have a time limit set for his final arguments, as he wanted to run on and on like Tennyson's "brook".

Attorney Marron's move to have red lights and sirens removed from all Carmel privately owned police cars does not affect the trial in any way; however Mrs. Bolin testified that an automobile came up behind her at a high rate of speed, causing her great alarm, and she immediately stepped on the gas to get away from it and that at no time until the arrest was made did the car show a red light or use its siren. Because she had no idea that it was a police car she acted as she did.

When we called him "Perry Mason", Mr. Marron wanted to know what sort of an insult that was. Evidently he has not been keeping up on the current "whodunit" stories.

Highlight of the trial came when Argyll Campbell put his law associate Marron on the witness stand. Needless to say Mr. Marron proved an excellent witness but could not keep a grin off his face.

When we see four legal luminaries practically at each other's throats hour after hour for days, we find it very hard to remember that there is only a minor speeding charge against the defendant instead of multiple homicide.

Campbell and Marron are serious, however, and state they intend to take the case to the supreme court if necessary. It is the principal of the thing, they insist, and it must be, as neither is receiving one penny for their efforts.

However the trial IS costing the taxpayers money every minute it continues.

MEMORIAL DAY

When taps sound their clear melody on Memorial Day, they will awaken thoughts of that dark hour in American history when this nation was rent asunder by civil strife.

They will awaken memories of that other momentous hour in history when America sent her young warriors to the battlefield of Europe.

"Over there!" was the stirring song of those days, and it is over there that thousands now lie sleeping in green fields where crosses stand row on row.

For that struggle the world suffered much and paid its dear price in blood and tears.

Even now can it be said that the world has ceased paying the price? Has it won peace, or the promise of peace? Today old Europe is ruddy with the glare from the war god's furnaces, uniformed men by the millions stand ready and waiting, and Might sits enthroned once more as supreme and final arbiter at the council tables of Europe.

Yet the Will to Peace is stronger today in the hearts of men than ever before. Few have escaped the knowledge of war's horrors, or of its boon companions, Suffering and Destruction. In these truths, lies hope for peace.

It was in this hope of winning lasting peace for the world that American soldiers laid down their lives in the last war. This Memorial Day is to honor their sacrifice. But it can also be a day for America to pledge itself to keep faith with the hope which guided them.

POPPY DAY TOMORROW

Don't forget that tomorrow is Poppy Day, when replicas of the red poppies that grow in Belgium and France and which have become the memorial flower of the American Legion and its Auxiliary will be on sale through efforts of the Carmel Auxiliary in co-operation with the nation-wide Poppy Day program. The proceeds go to carrying on the work of relief among war-disabled men and their dependents.

STRICTLY NOT FOR GARBAGE

That horrid smell emanating from the trash cans on Ocean avenue and Dolores street is not a result of too much politics being discussed in their vicinity by loiterers, but because some residents in Carmel have found them a very convenient way to circumvent Mr. Roscelli's fee for hauling household garbage.

Those cans were NOT placed on the street as public depositories for garbage, but rather for trash such as envelopes, empty cigaret packages and the like.

This matter was brought up in council meeting last week by Councilman Hazel Watrous as Commissioner of Health and Safety. The matter of compulsory garbage collection (that of compelling every householder to avail himself of Mr. Roscelli's garbage disposal service) was also discussed, but it is hoped that this stringent regulation will not become necessary. It is certain that the removal of those trash cans will be necessitated promptly if the public continues to dump household garbage into the cans on our main streets.

It should not be too hard to secure a little cooperation in a matter of this kind; those boxes are a help in solving the problem of keeping our streets clean and we do not want to have anything done to cause their removal.

RETIRE AT BIRTH

Honestly we don't know whether or not we are victims of a huge hoax in printing the story of the proposed convention in Carmel of the Retire at Birth plan delegates.

We are told that Carmel has been selected as the birthplace of the plan because of the intelligent class of people we have residing in the village. The proponents of the plan must be very confident of the workability of their idea by choosing intelligent Carmel, as most of these plans depend on an entirely different class of people, mainly those on the opposite side of the street to intelligence.

We have been assured by proponents of the retire at birth plan that this is not a political organization to combat the $30 Every Thursday ballot which the governor has indicated he will call sometime soon, but even so it will naturally prove another piece of gristle in the meat of the Ham and Eggers.

Rehearsals for Bach Festival Begin Sunday

Gastone Usigli is coming from Los Angeles to rehearse the Bach Festival chorus and orchestra this Sunday. The orchestra will rehearse at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the chorus at 7:30 in the evening, both rehearsals to be in the music room of the Sunset school. Players and singers are urged to be well on time so that the rehearsals may begin promptly.

The cantata, "Praise God" and the "Kyrie" and opening choral of the "B minor Mass" will be rehearsed by the chorus, and the "Overture in D major" and "Brandenburg II" by the orchestra.

All interested in singing or playing are asked to call Carmel 62.

reported were: syphilis, 7; mumps and gonorrhea, 6 each; scarlet fever, 3; whooping cough, 2; chickenpox, diphtheria, German measles, tuberculosis, 1 each.

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

Elizabeth Yeaman, Hollywood newspaperwoman, breezed into The Pine Cone office this week almost breathless with the discovery of Carmel. Carmel apparently is the third place that has taken her breath away since she left her home in Colorado.

Reversing Horace Greeley in Greeley's own state, Miss Yeaman a few years ago went east and enrolled in the famed Columbia school of journalism founded by Harry Overstreet, brother of William Overstreet of Carmel.

"New York was wonderful!" she declares. Then she went out to look for a job, landed in Hollywood. She might have said something to the effect that "Hollywood, it is wonderful!" At any rate she found it very exciting.

As a reporter on the Hollywood Citizen News, Miss Yeaman wrote a sprightly column, then, when an "economy" wave hit the Hollywood paper, became one of the American Newspaper Guild's celebrated "issues" during the ensuing strike.

"I know what it is to be an 'issue!'"

she stated. For sometime she joined picket lines until the Guild won its case, and then went back to "work." Her job was no longer her daily chit-chat column, but consisted of merely sitting at a desk, with nothing to do. It was very sad.

Finally, to while the time away, Miss Yeaman, after shuffling about papers for an hour every day, started in seriously to write fiction. She tackled the "short story" and is sticking to it.

Now she is getting a visiting reporter's view of Carmel, the place she has read about, and someday may join Gertrude Atherton and a host of others in putting Carmel scenes into fiction.

Dean Jennings' "The Man Who Killed Hitler" which recently acquired added publicity through Publisher George Palmer Putnam's abduction to Bakersfield, will be republished soon in England and France. Jennings learned this week. The London Sunday Express is serializing the book and a Paris paper is likewise carrying the story in serial form.

Hollywood is also reported to be angling for the book.

Back in these parts is Hilary Belloc, whom the sportswriters would label "carrot-thatched." Belloc, who was educated at Oxford and later at McGill University in Montreal, where he obtained a degree as a mining engineer, came west in 1932 from New York, lived at Carmel Highlands for several months, and then moved to Sausalito, where he has a home on De Silva's island at the head of Richardson's Bay, four miles out of Sausalito.

Today he is back with a seagoing launch, the "Sea Hawk", which he will operate for Del Monte during the summer months, taking out sport fishing parties from Stillwater Cove at Pebble Beach.

One who loves the comparatively free life of the sea, Belloc some years ago left Oxford for a cruise to the South Seas. He and a group of youthful adventurers bought some old moving picture films and a sailing schooner and set off for far places. They collected coconuts and fruit but few shekels as the price of admission when they showed their aging and battered films, eventually agreed to disagree, and the cruise came to an untimely end in New Caledonia—the part of the world where Jack London's "Cruise of the Snark" ended.

From there Belloc wandered to Fiji, eventually to Australia and New Zealand, and then headed east for this coast. He worked for the Pacific Gas and Electric company in San Francisco, where he had many relatives on his mother's side, and in British Columbia labored as a stevedore and in a lumber mill.

Buying a motorcycle he went on to New York, landed at McGill for further education in mining, and had time as well for a literary career with publishers in New York. This account doesn't carry out the exact chronology of Belloc's hopping about the world, but it strikes a few highlights.

In 1935 he bought his first boat, a crabfishing launch, and began commercial fishing. He sold the original packet, which he had somewhat artfully christened the "Vincent Van Gogh", and purchased his present craft, which, named the "Sea Hawk", because of a former owner's stay-at-home habits, was generally known among the dry-humored Scandinavian fishermen of Sausalito as the "Wharf Hawk."

Now, Belloc intends to make his boat live up to her real name.

MEASLES STILL COMMON

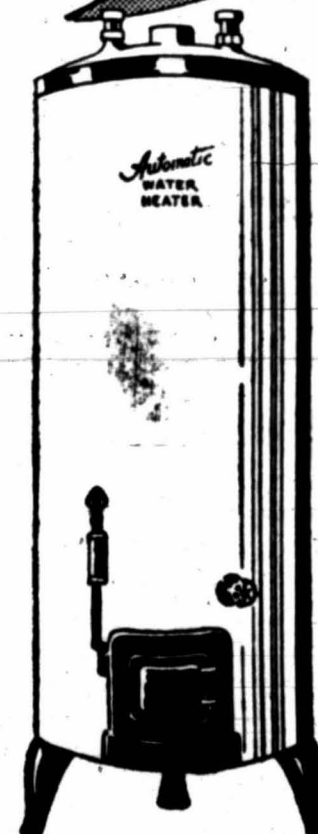

For the fifth week measles was prevalent in the county last week, according to latest health department reports, and more than a dozen of the 81 new cases were from this part of the county. Other diseases

Winnifred Howe is back in Carmel for the summer after a winter spent doing post graduate work at the University of California at Berkeley and also attending many musical events in the bay region. Miss Howe is living with her mother, Mrs. Katharine Macfarland Howe.

The Chapel Judson family of Pebble Beach are journeying to far places. Mr. and Mrs. Judson sailed last week for the Orient to be gone six weeks. Their son Bill is in London, England, with France and Holland also on his itinerary.

Visiting Mrs. Maude Hogle in Carmel is her sister, Mrs. Chancellor Jenks of Evanston, Ill. Mrs. Jenks is the mother of Mrs. Erwin Poklen, of Carmel.

Recuperating in St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco following a serious operation is Mrs. Herbert Hooser of Carmel. Mrs. Hooser expects to return home after two weeks and in the meantime is able to receive friends who may be in San Francisco.

Mrs. Webster Street has been in San Francisco for several days this week returning to Carmel yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex McBride have installed their three sons in their home in Eureka and returned to Carmel for two days this week before leaving for San Francisco for a short stay. While here they were guests at Pine Inn.

The bridge section of the Carmel Woman's Club were entertained at a delightful picnic lunch last Thursday afternoon at the Carmel Valley home of Mrs. Joseph G. Hooper. About twenty members of the section were present.

There has been much discussion of old times at school in the Corum Jackson home in the Mission tract this week. The reason is that Mrs. William See Brown of Fitchburg, Mass., has been the guest of her former schoolmate, Mrs. Corum Jackson for a few days. The school they both attended was Miss Chamberlain's in Boston.

The federal aid to education study group of the Monterey County League of Women Voters will meet this Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Douglas Carter.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the David Marrs piano recital at the Peninsula Country Club tomorrow evening includes Leonard Abinante, business manager; Millicent Sears, chairman; Miss Elizabeth Ogier, Mrs. Lawrence Lyon, Mrs. Paul Hicks, Mrs. Eleanor Chamberlain.

On Thursday afternoon of last week Mr. and Mrs. Hal Garrott invited a small group of people interested in music to their Hatton Fields home to hear David Marrs, talented young pianist, play the program he presented before the Musical Arts Club this week. Mr. Marrs has not only intensively studied the piano but also has made a specialty of mathematics and pure science. He is a young Californian who has received his education in this state and is at present associated with Douglas School in Pebble Beach. Those who enjoyed the seldom done MacDowell "Eroica Sonata", a group of Brahms intermezzi and selections from Debussy were Mrs. Emma Evans, Mrs. Marjorie Warren, Mrs. Francis L. Lloyd, Jack Neff and Richard Wissmueller.

The Peninsula Mothers Association will hold a progressive games party on Saturday evening, May 27, at the American Legion Hall. There will be action games such as ping pong, target shooting, Chinese checkers and bridge for those desiring less exercise and dancing for everyone. Prizes for the highest scores will be given and refreshments served. Tickets are 50 cents per person and the proceeds will go to the Nursery School for past maintenance and summer plans. James Parsons is in charge of the games and Mrs. Miriam Watson in charge of the dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Cockburn entertained at tea on Sunday afternoon in honor of their son, Ranald, who was celebrating his birthday. Those invited to the Cockburn home to share the big cake and congratulate Ranald were Miss Helen Hall, Miss Barbara Winslow, Mrs. Ranald Cockburn, Miss Haldee Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Lloyd, Stephen Bamberger, James Farquharson Leys and three members of the very young set, Lorraine Cockburn and Jennifer and Skipper Lloyd.

Carol Ann LeNeve arrived at the Peninsula Community hospital on Thursday evening of last week. She was two months ahead of the date that her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff LeNeve, were expecting her and so she is at present spending her time in an incubator until she gains some weight. Her father, who has seen her, reports that she is a very lovely little girl with a personality that packs a punch.

Paul R. Saunders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rome C. Saunders of Carmel, graduated last Saturday from the University of California at Berkeley with honors in chemistry. He has been granted a fellowship at the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena to take effect next fall when he will study with a Ph. D. as his objective. Saunders is spending the summer doing work in a biochemical laboratory in Berkeley.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Elliott of Carmel are at present in New York City. During their absence Mr. and Mrs. Saverio Balacco of Los Angeles are taking care of the Elliott children. Mrs. Balacco is Mrs. Elliott's sister. The Elliotts expect to be back in order to see their younger daughter, Mary Jean, play the part of "Little Eva" in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" at the First Theater next week.

Frank Wickman of Carmel Highlands returned here this week, accompanied by his friend, Frank Newhall. Mr. Wickman has been spending the winter in New York along with Adolph Telchert and has recently been in Mexico for a month.

Miss Virginia Carrigan of San Mateo has been the guest this week of Mrs. Joseph G. Hooper of Carmel.

La Collecta Club met on Wednesday of last week at the home of Mrs. Cecil Haskell. Mrs. William Chappell and Mrs. Mildred Melrose had charge of the program and gave humorous readings. The birthdays of two members were observed, being those of Mrs. Cecil Haskell and Mrs. Vive Harber. A new member was admitted to the group, Mrs. Victor Graham. The next meeting of the club will be on June 7 at the home of Mrs. Clara Louise Beller, when Mrs. A. B. Crouch will be in charge of the program.

Barbara Winslow, fourth ranking woman tennis player in the United States, who has been seriously ill, made her first appearance on a tennis court in five months on Monday when she went over to Del Monte to see if she still remembered how to serve and return. With Leo Kohler to feed her the shots she wanted, Barbara found that all her serves went in and both her backstroke and forearm were still working. Miss Winslow is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Winslow of Carmel and the sister of Mrs. Ranald Cockburn.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Cooke of Carmel left on Monday by car for Los Angeles where they planned to spend a week or ten days.

Vacationing in the northern part of the state for two weeks are Mrs. Maude Wilmot, Mrs. Mae Marr and Miss Ellen Skadan.

Settled in their Carmel home after a wedding trip spent in Southern California are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Malcolm Kennedy. Mrs. Kennedy is the former Barbara Todd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Todd of Whittier, and Mr. Kennedy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde C. Kennedy of San Jose.

Mr. and Mrs. William Black and their daughter, Erin, have come down from San Francisco to spend several days as the guests of Mrs. Black's mother, Mrs. Neil Bosworth.

Back after being away nearly four months is Tilly Polak. Tilly reports that she had a very fine crossing from Holland to New York even though she did spend eleven days on the voyage due to the fact that the ship was forced out of her course due to icebergs. Holland was cold, too, this winter, after being in California, but, according to Tilly, the spring was so beautiful that one forgot the winter. Motoring about the peaceful Dutch countryside it was hard to believe that it might at any moment become a battlefield. However, the Dutch people live happily from day to day and the threat of war with Germany is so real that it is better disregarded. Back in Carmel again all the European trouble seems so far away, says Tilly, and smilingly greets her friends in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Flanders invited a few friends to their home on Tuesday evening in order to enjoy a rare treat, a private showing of the work of Carmel's imaginative painter, Jeanne d'Orge (Mrs. Carl Cherry). These pictures have a dream quality with rare color combinations and striking contrasts of light. They are mind pictures which take form, for the most part, as the artist works. Some are symbolic, while others are fanciful, fairylake landscapes, and others composite, made up of many memories of seen beauties. Interesting also is Jeanne d'Orge's use of thin oils on a glossy paper which gives to her work a delicate luminescence. The photographic is entirely disregarded and yet the image is stronger, often, than extreme realism. Those fortunate enough to be present that evening feel that Carmel should see more of this painter's work. It has a quality of storing up intriguing memories in the mind, to be treasured long after the actual pictures are gone.

The weekly bridge tournament at the Mission Ranch Club this week had a surprising twist to the proceedings. The players were chatting around the fire after their play while David Eldridge totaled up the scores when it was discovered that the office was on fire. Bridge was forgotten and hoses and furniture moving were in order. Finally when the smoke and excitement had cleared away, winners were announced as: First, Mrs. Wanda Crowley and Mrs. Olinger, and, second, Mrs. Esther Hitchcock and William McDonald.

Mrs. Florence Lockwood, portrait painter of Los Gatos, passed through Carmel this week-end and reports that she will return in June to spend some time here.

Expected here this week-end to visit his family is J. O. Greenan, who will remain long enough to help Mrs. Greenan and the children move into their new Hatton Fields home about June 7. Both Mr. and Mrs. Greenan have been busy with the interior decorator for some weeks past and, now that the walls and floors are finished, are anxiously awaiting the day when the big vans arrive from San Francisco with the drapes and the furniture they have selected. Then it will be just a matter of a few days before the Greenan family will find themselves looking out of their windows to the Mission and Point Lobos and the Valley.

Carmel boys who are students at the California Nautical school in Tiburon and now home on vacation following the annual cruise, attended the annual dance of the school which was held on Treasure Island on Wednesday. They were Bill Chapman, Kent Clark, Jr., John Clague and Markham Johnston.

Visiting in Santa Barbara recently have been Mr. and Mrs. Burleigh Murray of Carmel. While in the southern city they occupied a villa at the El Encanto Hotel.

Kit Whitman, after a year of intensive work at the Carmel Art Institute, granted herself a week's holiday on Monday morning. Kit has spent the week quietly at home, resting so that she will be ready for the summer season.

Expected back in Carmel this week-end is Jerome Chance, who has now almost recovered from his recent operation in Berkeley. He will spend the summer here with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Chance, Casanova street.

Mrs. Amy Falk, who is visiting in Carmel, was the guest of honor at a cocktail party on Sunday afternoon given by her sister, Mrs. Paul H. Low. Among those invited to the Low home on the Point to meet Mrs. Falk were Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, Mrs. Thomas Work, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peck, Mrs. Esther Hitchcock, William MacDonald, Captain and Mrs. Philip Shotwell, Mrs. Daisy Bos-tick, Mrs. Dowsett Norvell, Mrs. Mariani, Mr. and Mrs. Haskin of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Farr, also from Los Angeles, David Eldridge, Miss Jeannette McFadden, Donald McFadden and Mr. and Mrs. Denney Roper.

Stanford students who spent last week-end in Carmel were Kirby Low, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Low, and two of his friends, Miss Marian Chase and Charles Springmyer. They were the guests at the Low home while here.

The California Business and Professional Women's Clubs will hold their convention this week-end at Del Monte Hotel, when about 700 are expected to attend.

Skeet and trap shooters will be busy over this week-end at the Del Monte shooting grounds, as that is the locale chosen for the California state shoot.

Guests at Del Monte Lodge this week are Mrs. Ralph Bellamy and Mrs. Walter Connelly, both from Beverly Hills, Mrs. Russell Havenstrite of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Burton Britton Budd from Chicago and Captain and Mrs. A. Webster Bullock of Pasadena.

Herbert Heron, mayor of Carmel, and J. E. Abernethy were among those from this area attending the meeting of the California Bankers Association at San Jose last week-end. Others included R. H. Part-ridge of Pacific Grove and Ralph Hughes of Salinas.

Mrs. Walter H. Duane is expected back in Carmel on June 8 and will remain for the summer.

Anne Greene will present her first piano concert in more than a year on Wednesday evening, June 7, at 8:30 in the Charles Sumner Greene studio on Lincoln street, when admission will be $1.00. Miss Greene has prepared for this event the Fifth French suite in G major by Bach, a suite by Poulenc, several Debussy selections and the Brahms Sonata in F Minor. Those who have heard this young pianist recently can only recommend that the concert is an event which should be marked on the calendars of all Carmel music lovers.

Mrs. Mae Norton of Los Angeles spent last week-end at Highland Studio, the home of Mrs. Millicent Sears. Mrs. Norton is a lecture impresario and has sole charge of the bookings of such people as Mrs. Val-ley, authority on current events.

Back from the Mills College and Sacramento Riding Club horse shows have come Betsy Bosworth and her horse, Ludor, the air a-flutter with the ribbons they have won and their baggage heavy with trophies they acquired. Ludor was first in the Upson Downs and Leona Creek trials for hunters, and fourth in the model hunter class in the Mills College show. At Sacramento he was first in dressage, second in the ladies' hunter class and fourth in the hunter hack division. No doubt there would have been more to add to this except that the second day of the Sacramento show was rained out.

Miss Mary Eyre and Mrs. R. D. Girvin are once more occupying their homes on the Point.

Back from a week spent at Inverness and on Point Reyes are Mr. and Mrs. Laidlaw Williams. Their object in going north was to observe cormorants which have their breeding grounds on the bleak, rugged shores of the point.

The Carmel Rifle and Pistol Club held a dinner for their members on Wednesday evening at the Mission Ranch Club.

William Wood of Robles del Rio Lodge in Carmel Valley returned this week from a trip to British Columbia. During his absence David Prince took charge of the lodge, having come down from the Commodore Hotel in San Francisco.

Guests at the Mission Ranch Club this week have been Miss Jeannette McFadden and her brother, Donald McFadden, from Hollywood. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Page of San Francisco will stay there for a week. Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Bylin William of San Francisco arrived for a week's stay and Miss Ara Haswell from Hollywood will arrive on Monday for several days.

"Prof. Mamlock" Arraigns Nazis, Filmarte Screen

"Professor Mamlock", a film against Nazi persecution based on the authentic confessions of a Nazi spy, was hailed by the New York critics as one of the important pictures of the year, opens at the Filmarte next Wednesday for a four-day run. At its American premiere the New York World-Telegram reviewer said, "With magnificent eloquence, 'Professor Mamlock' spins a fierce and shattering indictment of Nazi terrorism in the brilliantly acted and directed screen version of Frederick Wolf's novel of the same name."

Professor Mamlock is a famous German surgeon-scientist, a patriot who is proud of his wounds at Verdun. But he is a Jew and after the burning of the Reichstag he is expelled from his clinic and marched through the streets with the word "Jude" painted on his surgeon's gown. A leading Nazi official is stricken by a malady for the healing of which the professor is famous. True to his physician's oath, the professor returns to the clinic and performs the operation.

A devotee of science who has never allowed politics to intrude on his life, Professor Mamlock's eyes are opened and his subsequent actions lead to a startling climax. The background of the story is the activity of his son, a member of an underground organization.

The most startling and daring motion picture ever made!

County Field Trial Club Formed as Group of 37 Attend Meet

The Monterey County Field Trial Club was formed at a meeting at the Carmel American Legion Club on Tuesday evening with Douglas Bradburn elected president, Ed Kaiser first vice-president, A. T. Weir, second vice-president, and Neal J. Baggett, secretary-treasurer.

Nearly 40 persons interested in field training and trials attended, including L. K. Gentry, J. A. West, Charles Brown, Art Fleming, Mrs. Kingsland, William Thompson, and the following who have signified their intention to join the training class: Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Weir, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hilbert, H. I. Gable, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones, A. J. Freitas, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Franklin, J. B. Casella, Ira Deakin, Hiller Amstein, Ed Kaiser, Steve Sheldon, V. Lee and David Muir.

Visitor to Carmel Dies While Here to See Her Daughters

Mother of Mrs. Grant Phillips and Miss Janet Taylor, Mrs. Estella Bass Taylor, of Los Angeles, died suddenly last Sunday morning while on a visit to her daughters' home in Carmel. Two other daughters survive, Mrs. E. L. Kane and Mrs. Frank Kelly, Los Angeles, and three sons, Robert Taylor of Honduras, and John B. and Lewis Taylor, Los Angeles. Cremation followed services in Monterey on Monday afternoon.

Recreation for Summer Planned by WPA Group

Summer programs are being arranged by the WPA recreation department to be carried on during school vacation, at the Sunset school playgrounds, the beach and the Carmel tennis courts.

Activities for children of various ages and adults will be arranged and hours scheduled for the different groups at the most convenient times.

The parents of children of grammar school age are urged to co-operate and possibly assist in beach parties, which will be held on certain days during the week, and also that they will sign the necessary notes of permission, allowing their children to participate under proper supervision.

Tennis tournaments will be arranged at the tennis courts for different age groups, and also badminton will be a feature at the Sunset school. Adult classes in this will be organized and the hours will be between 4 and 7 in the afternoon.

A softball league for the younger boys will be organized on the school playgrounds, and organized children's games will be played daily under proper WPA recreation supervision.

Huntington Library Seeks Material on Poets of California

The Huntington Library is establishing a Historical Department of California Poetry. As this is to be the definite collection of California, they want letters and books of the older poets; George Sterling, Bertha Newberry, Henry Lafler, Nora May French, etc. Many friends who are anxious that these records be preserved are giving valuable material. The Huntington is also buying some.

Lindley Bynum of the Huntington Library, San Marino, is taking care of the purchasing. All other material should be sent to Beulah May, R. F. D. Box 4, Santa Ana, Calif. From the newer poets who have gained some degree of recognition, what they want is this: any printed books and if possible the manuscripts of them; typescript copies of some of the poems and one poem in long-hand; a short account of the poet's life, his interests and activities, and if possible a few photographs, signed.

"Dodge City" Is Frontier Story at the Carmel

"Dodge City", "Warner Bros." technicolor production starring Errol Flynn and featuring the story of blood and thunder of the cattle country in the 1870's, will be at the Carmel Theater Sunday to Tuesday.

The story of the growth of the famous Kansas town from a tiny settlement to a great trading center forms the background for the adventurous experiences of the hero.

Putting the manifestly British Flynn into a tale of frontier America may seem a little strange to those who are not too well acquainted with the actual history of the Old West. As a matter of fact, the annals of those times record more than one venturesome Briton who acquired distinction as a he-man in a region where a man without virility and courage could not survive.

CARMEL AMBULANCE CREW AIDS RESCUE AS ONE KILLED, FOUR IMPERILED IN PLUNGE OVER CLIFF

The second woman to die in a car wreck on the Carmel-San Simeon within a year was crushed to death near Anderson Creek Highway maintenance camp last Monday evening, and lives of her three women companions and Filipino chauffeur endangered as their heavy new sedan plunged 250 feet to within 100 feet of the beach.

All four women were from Los Angeles.

Killed was Mrs. Maurice Henry Lehman, who reportedly fell out as a door was ripped from the car, and was crushed as the machine fell on her in its plunge down the steep rocky cliff.

Less than a year ago Madame Borghild Janson, Carmel musician, was killed near Gorda, a few miles distant, as she drove along southward and on the traffic lane nearest the cliff.

The other women, all middle-aged, were: Mrs. Hattie Lehman, in critical condition after breaking a leg and suffering internal injuries including fractured ribs; Mrs. Daisy Straus, sister of the dead woman, with broken collar bone and bruises; Mrs. Alma Goodman, sprained ankle and bruises.

Vito Sichon, the chauffeur, escaped with face cuts and bruises. He climbed the cliff and summoned aid. The accident occurred in broad daylight, but rescue crews struggled for more than four hours by the light of flares and automobile headlights to save the surviving trio.

In this rescue the Carmel Red Cross ambulance and crew of Birney Adams, Fred Mylar and Gil Severn played a heroic and invaluable role, bringing up the injured to the road and taking two of them to hospital.

Also a hero of the day was Dr. H. C. Murphy, retired Salinas physician, owner of Slaters Springs, who in spite of his age answered the emergency call and administered first aid.

The accident climaxed a week-end in which three other persons were left dead and 16 injured on Monterey county highways, bringing the total for the county to 20 dead and 160 injured since Jan. 1.

Pine Needles

Newcomers at Peter Pan Lodge this week were Mr. and Mrs. David Weisbard, Miss Marian Morgan and Mrs. Masha Lauroff Rollings, all from Hollywood.

Robles del Rio Lodge, up Carmel Valley, have had as their guests this week, Miss Dorothy and Miss Barbara Beach of San Francisco; Miss Norma Peiro of Carmel; Mrs. G. de Pichon from Paris, France, and her daughter, Susan; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Beeseley of London, England, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gillen of San Francisco, who were on their honeymoon.

Gay must have been the atmosphere at Highlands Inn this week as eight couples were honeymooning there. They were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Dobbs, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Hedrick, Salt Lake City; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bayley, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Green, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hilton, San Diego; Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Handley, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. J. Gardner, Los Angeles, and Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Empey, Roseville.

Next Green Room production of the Carmel Players will probably be "The Torchbearers", for which casting is to begin immediately.

Mrs. Mary L. Hamlin of the Sundial Court apartments is at the Paso Robles Hot Springs this week. She will be at the spa for a fortnight.

Mrs. Joseph A. Leonard of Carmel returned last week-end from San Francisco where she visited with her son, George Leonard, who drove her home and remained for the week-end. Mrs. Leonard included the Fair in her visit.

Three New Homes in Mission Tract Now Under Construction

New construction in the Mission Tract this week includes three new homes, one of which will soon near completion.

Mrs. Carol Veazie of St. Francis Wood, San Francisco, is building on Dolores road south of the Byington Ford home and east of Mrs. Marie Elizalde. R. L. Humphrey is the contractor who is building for an estimated $7500.

Sam Hopkins is beginning a new house for his mother on Santa Lucia opposite the present Hopkins home. Jon Konigshofer is the designer and builder. Estimated cost is around $8000.

Carl Bensberg is building on Santa Lucia between San Carlos and Mission streets a house to sell for approximately $9200. Brick is being extensively used in the construction. This place will be completed before long.

Thomas Warren is home from Berkeley to spend the summer with his mother, Mrs. B. O. Warren.

Police to Tighten Up On Parking Limits on Main Streets, May 30

Marking of cars parked on the main streets where parking limits are marked by signs will commence May 30, it was announced by the Carmel Police Department yesterday.

Ocean avenue, Dolores street, San Carlos, Lincoln, Mission and Seventh streets in the business district have time-limited parking.

All required traffic signs are being placed.

23 YEARS AGO

The Forest Theater program is announced to include the annual Forest Theater play, the Arts and Crafts children's play, the Western Drama Society's production of "Romeo and Juliet" and "A Winter's Tale", and an interpretative dance program by Miss Saidee Van Brower and Miss Jeannette Hoagland.

Patty Primrose Reveals Identity, Party Plans Set

People have been curious regarding the identity of Miss Patty Primrose, the singing school teacher, who is to give an exhibition with her pupils next week at the Community Church on Lincoln. It seems that the Patty Primrose Singing School was originated by Mrs. Marie Nelson Lee of Carmel and was presented many times in the East by Mrs. Lee before coming to California. The character of Patty Primrose was created by Mrs. Lee and she gives a jolly program of old time songs with her pupils.

There will be accordian and mouth organ solos, recitations and choruses interspersing the program.

The entertainment is scheduled for Friday evening, June 2nd at 8 o'clock. The Women's Auxiliary, under whose auspices the songfest will be given, will serve doughnuts and coffee without extra charge at the end of the program.

Mrs. Zona Morse had as guests at her home on Junipero street, Mrs. Arthur Whalley and Mrs. E. LeBlonde, both of Seattle, and Mrs. J. Clausen, of Wisconsin, this week.
